RIDICULOUS PREPARATIONS FOR CHAMBERLAIN'S VISIT.

A Report That Four Detectives Will Accompany Him on His Tour in This Country—Blunt Pronounced a Crank. Halfour's Body Guard—Foreign Notes.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—To judge from the tone of the articles in several of the London journals, and the language of many of Mr. Chamberlain's friends, one would imagine that instead of crossing the Atlantic on an ocean ferryboat to fulfill a peaceful errand in a civilized country, that gentleman was undertaking a compulsory mission to the capital of some cannibal potentate whose temper was more than ordinarily capricious.

It is hard to say whether the uncontradicted statement that he is accompanied by two English detectives on his trip across the water creates the more marvelling or disgusting among the Americans here, for that the Scotland Yard group would be of any assistance to Mr. Chamberlain in America no one familiar with the country for a moment imagines. The report that the attendant bodyguard will be reinforced by two New York sleuth-hounds warranted to scent any dynamite that may be on the English diplomat's trail causes unmingled indignation, for no sensible person supposes that Mr. Chamberlain will be in danger of any insult or injury while attending to his duties in Washington. But then there are few Englishmen who have sensible views regarding America or Americans.

A Conservative member of parliament, who has been in the United States, and who keeps himself informed concerning current events there, through the columns of the leading American newspapers, predicts that Mr. Chamberlain will create a very favorable impression upon those with whom he comes into contact at Washington, and that through his efforts the fisheries question will be speedily and satisfactorily settled.

During a conversation in which the same gentleman was requested to give his views upon Irish affairs in general, he was decidedly reticent as regards the main question, but it was plain that he had no sorrow for the misfortunes which have befallen or may befall English sympathizers with Ireland through their presence at interdicted meetings. Mr. Wilfred Blunt, he says, is what would be called in America a crank, and is supremely happy in the notoriety he has gained, through his wife, who is the possessor of a title, is generally considered responsible for Mr. Blunt's eccentricities. Lady Anne Blunt's present hobby is the Irish question. She has spent some years in travel in out-of-the-way regions, and is the author of a rather entertaining book, entitled "The Bedouin Tribes of the Euphrates."

The pair returned some time since from their jaunt through Mesopotamia thoroughly imbued with the idea that their mission in life was to improve the English breed of horses by mingling with their degenerated blood the pure strain of some steeds of the Desert, which it was hinted the wily natives had unloaded upon the Blunts at fancy prices. To the great mortification of the philanthropic couple the English horse breeders ridiculed the Bedouin "children of the wind," although the pedigree of some of them reached back to the time of Solomon, and even had the cruelty to outrun them with some very inferior English horses. Lady Anne is credited with possessing sufficient philosophy to enable her to bear her husband's probable imprisonment with becoming fortitude.

Halfour's Bodyguard.
LONDON, Nov. 7.—Chief Secretary of Ireland Halfour spoke at Birmingham last night. He defended the government's Irish policy, and concluded with the assertion that the ministry would proceed with the work it had started in Ireland which, though difficult, the government was capable of accomplishing.

"The most astonishing thing about Mr. Halfour's appearance was that he was surrounded by heavily-armed detectives and police to protect him from the supposed Irish-American assassins in the crowd. At the depot he was met by the chief of police, who walked at one side, while a detective was on the other. The extensiveness of the police preparations were laughable, but Mr. Halfour seemed to regard them seriously."

Irish Affairs.
DUBLIN, Nov. 7.—All persons who took part in the midnight meeting at Woodford three weeks ago will be prosecuted by the government. Among those known to have been there are M. P.'s James Rowland, T. P. Gill and David Sheehy and Mr. Donohoe, secretary of the lord mayor of Dublin. Owing to Mr. Cox's failure to appear at Rinnis court, in answer to summons, a warrant has been issued for his arrest. He is charged with attending proclaimed meeting in County Clare.

A half dozen moonlighters have been arrested for shooting a farmer. Twenty-one persons who resisted officers while making evasions at Ballykrough have been imprisoned for various terms.

Passed Through a Hurricane.
QUEENSTOWN, Nov. 7.—The steamship Umbria arrived here to-day, and reports passing through a hurricane on Wednesday last. Tremendous seas were shipped and five steerage passengers were injured, one of whom had a leg broken; another was out on the head and arm. Mr. Jay Gould, who, with his family, is on board, says that he did not suffer any from the storm, and that already freedom from business has been beneficial to him. Mr. Gould listened closely while the latest news of the money market was related to him, and then declared that he did not intend to transact any business in England.

Sullivan Arrives at England.
QUEENSTOWN, Nov. 7.—The Cephalonia arrived here to-day with John L. Sullivan on board. The latter expresses much indignation at both Kilrain and Mitchell, and wants to fight both in the same ring. Sullivan believes Smith is better than Kilrain. He says that he means to return to America as champion of the world or die here.

Tuesday's Election.
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Much interest is being taken in next Tuesday's election, not only in Ohio but elsewhere. Aside from Ohio the main points of interest will be New York, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Minnesota. The two Virginias and Maryland are attracting attention because the Republicans believe that they have a chance of carrying them. Minnesota and Massachusetts are equally entertaining fields, because the Democrats look for great gains therein. Rhode Island is of consequence, because there is a special congressional election to fill a vacancy, and because the control of the house of representatives on a vote by states depends upon the result.

Bloodshed Feared.
MUSKOGEE, I. T., Nov. 7.—The troubles arising out of the recent election are likely to result in bloodshed, and last night what is known as the Nationalist party, barricaded the public buildings, the main street and advantageous points. Two men arrived here last night, and said that J. B. Mayes, the Downing chief, alleged to have been elected at the last election, was at Oklawaha at the head of a big armed force, and would march on Tahlequah. All the women and children and other non-combatants have left the capital, and a strong line of picket has been placed around the town. Preparations for a stout resistance are being made and messengers are being sent in all directions by the Nationalists to summon aid. Rabbit Bunche, the Nationalist chief, has gathered a force, and is fully armed. Two-thirds of the force of the nation will be in Tahlequah next Monday, and if the Nationalist council count in Rabbit Bunche to the chief army, the Downing people will immediately commence hostilities. If war ensues it will be a bloody one.

Berdon's Torpedo and Ram.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The liveliest efforts now in progress here to work up a lobby for the next congress are those which relate to what is called the Gen. Berdon torpedo and ram. He has recently secured the publication of a story that his system has been practically approved by the naval board on floating defenses. This is correct, except in the one particular that the board has not even taken up his system for consideration. In a newspaper sense, there is nothing that it be better to keep further away from than the Berdon torpedo business.

Probably Succeeded.
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The friends of David Scott, of Vernon Brothers & Co., who disappeared on Tuesday last, leaving behind him an overdraw account and $70,000 in improperly indorsed notes, have formed the opinion that he has committed suicide. He was heard from last on Thursday at Niagara, where he purchased a ticket for the other side. He has not been heard from on the Canadian side, and he left his watch and wallet at the hotel in Niagara.

Another Cholera Laden Vessel.
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A report was circulated to-day that the French steamer Chateau Yquem which arrived from Bordeaux had cholera on board. Health Officer Smith emphatically denied the report. He said the vessel was detained for twenty-four hours for inspection.

Charged With Murder.
PITTSBURG, Nov. 7.—Frank Harn, uncle of the Frank Harn recently found dead in a carriage on a freight car at Chicago yesterday, charged the two men, James Simms and Scott Coates, already in custody, with the deliberate and malicious murder of his nephew, Frank Harn, on the night of October 28, in Allegheny county. The detectives who have been working the case have no doubt of the guilt of these two men.

The Weather.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Indications—Warmer, fair weather, light to fresh winds, generally shifting to southwesterly.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Quotations of the Money, Stock, Produce and Cattle Market for Nov. 5.

NEW YORK—Money 2 1/2 per cent. Exchange steady. Government bonds, 133 1/2; four-and-a-half, 10 1/2; 10 1/2. The stock market opened active and strong under the lead of the Vanderbilts, which were quite heavily brought prices steadily advanced during the first hour. At 11 o'clock the advance ranged from 1/4 to 1 per cent. The market then became dull, and on the appearance of the bank statement showing a decrease in the reserve of over $2,000,000, there was a reaction to sell, which sent prices down to the lowest figures. The sales for the day amounted to 105,391 shares.
